VALUES "DOT" VOTING EXTENDED!

After worship: IF you weren't able to vote last week, please sign the form by the charts to indicate that you are voting today!

A note about today's Prelude – The rapid, sweeping phrases of the prelude symbolize the rushing wind from heaven that announced the arrival of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. Against these phrases is boldly declared the melody of Martin Luther's hymn, "Come, Holy Ghost, God and Lord," (ELW #395) the Church's prayer for the Holy Spirit to continue to work in our lives and the life of the Church today. These two elements of the prelude blend together to become, at the end, an outburst of praise capturing the words at the end of verse one: "this to your praise, O Lord, our God, be sung. Alleluia! Alleluia!"
